- Evacuation and public address systems
Your information may be used for ETH Zurich emergency alerts or evacuations. Consequently, your data may be stored on off-campus servers in Switzerland. Our electronic alarm system is operated with the proper level of care. In case of emergency, people in affected areas, but not necessarily every single person, are informed electronically. Since data errors or technical defects can never be entirely ruled out, the electronic alarm is no substitute for information exchange and the prudent and appropriate reaction of each individual.
Lock Yourself in

- Lock yourself in
  - the office
  - a public room
- When, how and where are rooms with security locks?
- Notify us in case, the usage of a room changes
