

Research Colloquium in Extra-European and Global History

The fortnightly colloquium provides a forum for doctoral students, postdoctoral researchers and established scholars to present and discuss their work in progress. The colloquium addresses scholars and students of history, area studies and related disciplines in the first place, but is also open to interested ETH students from Different backgrounds who want to get an insight into the themes and currents of global history.

Time: Thursday, 18:15-19:45,

Dates: 14.3.19, 28.3.19, 11.4.19, 16.5.19, 23.5.19

Location: ETHZ, Chair for History of the Modern World, Clausiusstrasse 59, 8092 Zurich, RZ G21

Organizers: Prof. Dr. Harald Fischer-Tiné (harald.fischertine@gess.ethz.ch)

Office: Béatrice Schatzmann-von Aesch (beatrice.schatzmann@gmw.gess.ethz.ch)

Programme

- March 14, 2019 Prof. Dr. Rosemarijn Hoefte (Royal Netherlands Institute of Southeast Asian and Caribbean Studies/KITLV)
“Colonial Connections: Migrations from Java to Suriname and Back, 1890–1954”
- March 28, 2019 Prof. Dr. Jonathan Saha (University of Leeds)
“Unlicensed to kill: Paperwork as Commodity in Colonial Burma”
- April 11, 2019 Prof. Dr. Giorgio Riello (University of Warwick)
“Global Threads: Indian Ocean Textiles and the Material Atlantic, 1650–1800”
- May 16, 2019 Prof. Dr. Ruramisai Charumbira (University of Texas)
“Present Perfect Tense: History’s Revenge on the Color of Memory”
- May 23, 2019 Prof. Dr. Samita Sen (University of Cambridge)
Title to be announced

